Sir Claude Auchinleck's desert fighters had driven German art fighters had driven German armored forces out of an axis etrongpoint at Tamar, 21 miles southwest of Tobruk, and beaten off an attack by axis mechanized troops on the left flank of the 50-mile defense line.

At least 14 axis tanks were reported destroyed in the fierce action at Tamar.

Italians Claim Tide Turns
While front-line dispatches indicated the British were firmly holdcated the British were firmly holding the initiative in the swirling 10-day-old desert struggle. Premier Mussolini's high command asscried that the battle had taken a favorable turn for the axis. The Italian communique did not elaborate on its claim, however, merely listing 22 British armored cars captured or destroyed and heavy aerial attacks on British motor columns British headquarters made no reference to the developing situation north of Bir El Hachiem, the "well of wisdom" oasis 50 miles southwest of Tobruk, where Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops were attempting to widen a nine. Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops were attempting to widen a ninemile breach in the British line. The Germans were reported making furious tank assaults on both walls of the narrow corridor, through which Rommel was feeding supplies to his hard-pressed forces farther east.

The Language raids on Dutch

The Japanese raids on Dutch Harbor, striking first at 6 a. m. (Dutch Harbor Time) with a force of four bombers escorted by 15 fighters and again at 12 noon, of four bombers escorted by 16 fighters and again at 12 noon, were generally regarded as reprisal for Brig-Gen. James H. Doolittle's smashing attack at Tokyo and three other great Japanese gities on April 18.

Few believed it market the openang phase of a grand assault on Alaska, although Anthony J. Dimond, Aalskan deelgate to congress, declared: "I am afraid we may have a struggle on our hands to keep that

With the presence of a Japanese

With the presence of a Japanese micraft carrier indicated by the use of fighter planes against Dutch Harbor—more than 1,400 miles from the nearest Japanese island—all Pacific coast defenses went on the alert.

Commenting on the new British commando thrust into Adolf Hitler's French coastal defenses, Low don announced that the blackfaced raiders, escorted by warships and covered by RAF fighter planes, "engaged the enemy and obtained valuable information" in a predawn attack.

Claim Mussolini in Rome.

LIAIM Mussolini in Rome.

LONDON, June 4.—(P)—The Rome radio said today that Premier Mussolini was conferring with members of his government in Rome. A British broadcast yesterday said Mussolini was reported to have gone to North Africa.

Airgraph Letters. LONDON, June 4.—(P)—United States Army Headquarters announced today that American troops in the British Isles now will be able to send airgraph letters to relatives and friends at home.

The system is similar to that used

The system is similar to that used by British troops in India and the Middle East. The letters are written on specially prepared blanks and photographed by a micro-filming process. The films are taken by bomber to Washington, enlarged by the War Department and forwarded to the addresses.

The use of such letters is not mandatory, but it would save hundreds of tons of air mail.

Conforming to Pact, TOKYO (From Japanese Broad-easts) June 4.—iP;—The Diplomatic Review, closely connected with the foreign office, said today that Japan was conforming to the spirit of her neutrality pact with Soviet Russia and yet, as Germany's ally, "desires the complete success of German forces against Russia."

Probing Anti-Sub Tactics.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—(P)—
A senate naval affairs subcommittee is making a preliminary inves-tigation of the navy's anti-submar-ine warfare and may call naval ofine warfare and may call naval of-ficers for a public hearing, Chairman Ellender (D-La) said today.

Studying Ouibreak Illness.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(P)—
Secretary Stimson said today a special War Department board of research scientists was studying an outbreak of illness at Fort Custer,
Mich. and other army camps which Mich., and other army camps which appeared to be caused by abnormal reaction to yellow fever inoccula-

Asked at his press conference about a report that a large number of men were in the hospital at Fort Custer, and that at least two of them appeared to have what seemed to be mild cases of yellow fever, Stimson replied that the board studying the outbreak had not com-pleted its work, but doubted that the illness actually was yellow fev-er.

He said there were indications that the disease resembled jaundice rather than yellow fever.

Rumors in the vicinity of army camps have dealt with the possi-bility of sabotage of the yellow fever scrum, but when Stimson was asked whether there was any indication that this was "the beginning of germ warfare by the enemy" he plied "I have heard no indication of it until this question."

MRM SELECTES

WASHINGTON, June 4—(R)—
Without mentioning President Roosevelt's surprise at low intelligence ratings among many army selectees, the census bureau reported today that more than half the persons 25 years old or older in the United States had com-school by April 1, 1940.

The bureau reported the number of persons 25 years old or over in the country was 74,775,836.

Only 3.7 per cent had less than one year of formal schooling, but, on the other hand, only 4-6 per cent had finished college. Thus, those with less than a year in school totaled 2,799,923 and those with four or more years college numbered 3,407,331.

Everyone else in the age group had schooling ranging from a year or more in grade classes to one to three years in college. Those completing fewer than five years in the grades numbered 10,105,000, while 10.0 per cent had at least a year in college.

WASHINGTON, June 4 .- (A) The previously planned ten-million-ton steel expansion program will be cut 30 to 35 per cent, two top war production officials announc-ed today, because of material shortages.
